

The South Dakota War College is an on-line political journal of news, commentary, political thought and whimsy whose readership has grown by leaps and bounds since its inception in February 2005. By June 2006, the South Dakota War College had over 40,000 website hits generated by 16,000 visitors. And we're showing no signs of slowing down as we approach our 18-month anniversary of being on the Internet.

As you can see here from our statistics counter from the first of July, we're on an upward swing. And as we do that, we're making sure we're building for our future on a solid foundation.

We're in the process of adding features, additional commentators, advertising our presence, and establishing our own dedicated home on the Internet as we forge a brand that stands for exciting and in-depth South Dakota political commentary.

If you're thinking about advertising, we offer you a unique opportunity to connect with our readers to reach those elected officials, government officers, policymakers, political activists and others who make the South Dakota War College a mandatory stop as they take the political pulse of South Dakota on a daily basis.

For only a penny a web hit, you can place your company or products at their fingertips as they digest the political news of the day. Our rate sheet is as follows:

- Ads in rotating top banner – 128 pixels square - $50 per month. (These ads are linkable to a website)
- Top Banner Text (below rotating banner) - $100 per month
- Side Banner Ads (128 x 300 pixels) - $100 per week/$400 month
