

The calling birds have all flown away.
They're visiting the South to see the view.
Instead of a call they left these few things--
Some pencils and paper--their gift to you.

Eleven pipers were piping -- a wondrous sight
'Cause the pipes they were blowing made bubbles so light.
Here are some bubbles and a pipe just for you.
So you can join in and have lots of fun, too.

Nine ladies dancing was a beautiful sight,
I applauded so loud, it gave them a fright!
They ran away so fast, leaving a shoe or two.
So I filled them up with potpourri for you
To hang in the closet, or in a drawer hide.
They'll always smell pretty, that can't be denied!

Twelve drummers drumming each on their own drum.
That's the end of the song--Wasn't it fun!
Here is your drum with goodies as full as can be--
It's for wishing Merry Christmas to you from me!
